Vice Commodore's Report ...

(by Richard Nowina)

It is a critical time for DYC, a time for all of us to rally together and to restructure how we the members want DYC to be. Two years from now, with the piers rebuilt, new condos occupied, and the Port buzzing with activity, DYC will be the envy of clubs around the lake. We have our work cut out for us and together we can succeed.

I am in favour of not hiring a club manager until we have a complete understanding of what the job entails. Over the past two months, I have gained some insight and I can say it is not a difficult, nor perhaps even a full-time position, especially in the off seasons. However, it can be complex, demanding and necessary to stay on top of timelines, routines and record keeping. Attention to detail is critical; a vision is essential. After that it is straight-forward.

Ultimately, the decision regarding the manager role will be a board decision. However, members have a voice and a vote and the means to carry on. By pulling together we can immediately avoid wage expenses and deploy those savings into maintenance and upkeep.

Operating without a manager will require members to volunteer to be the face of the club to receive visitors from sea and land. Communications need to be improved so that incoming cruises are received hospitably. Ok, so that's my opinion and position. It's clear we have work to do.

Now upcoming:

- We have preparations for docks-in, launch, the social calendar and a myriad of tasks.
- Harbour Office and storage rooms are being reorganized and repainted by Dave Bellhouse and Jim White.
- DYC fleet boats are being readied by Paul Fagan and Shawn Woodward.
- Wendy and Rossco are organizing Launch Day.
- Greg Ballinger and Leigh Brown are working to improve Wi-Fi and disposing of obsolete electronic equipment.
- Leah Brown is assisting with hiring summer staff and a yard supervisor.
- Barb McMullen and Dan Sundy are rehanging pictures and awards in the boardroom.

Looking for volunteers for:

- Cleaning out the electrical utility room, and
- Organizing the back-storage room: there are old paper records, seasonal decorations and other miscellaneous items that require some judicious selection. I am thinking that Dan Sundy and Betty Bellhouse will ensure valuables are kept.

Thanks to:

- Lorie McLean for office filing system
- Jill Palmer for painting the office
- Val Jack for completing the reciprocal agreements and creating new membership cards
- Larry Richardson for diligent work on Standard Operating Procedures

When you see all these folks. Please say thanks. And ask, how can I help!

Cheers,

Richard

Commodore's Report ...

(by Simon Krall)

As a sailor, I habitually check out weather and radar websites all season long; this winter has been one of the most extreme I've seen. The power of Mother Nature is incredible to behold, so I am grateful that DYC continues to hold fast to her perfect place on the south shore of Lake Ontario.

This has been one of the busiest years of my life, and it goes without saying that I am extremely grateful to the continued hard work of this exceptional board. With the changes in our office administration, Richard Nowina has stepped in and coordinated a team-based and exceptional recovery of our administrative processes. I am indebted for the hard work that everyone is putting forth. Leigh and his digital minions are truly making progress on modernizing DYC. Wendy continues to manage the docks like a well-oiled machine. I could copy and paste my thanks and gratitude from last month, as these people still continue to strive on your behalf by doing the lion's share of work around the club.

There will be a different vibe to the club this spring, and it will be awesome. I think DYC is going to look busy, active, and it will be the fun place to be. I expect members to be impressed by the changes and improvements made by board and members alike. I hope that everyone will embrace this season with optimism and enthusiasm. DYC is the place to be... it is only a matter of time before the rest of the lake figures it out and fills our docks to capacity.

DYC - Niagara's best kept secret

Dock Chair Report ...

(by Wendy Northcote)

We are entering the month when preparations for launching our boats begins with hopes for warmer weather. As we ready our boats, there are a number of tasks to tackle in preparation for docks in. A project to prepare the sailing school floating dock has been initiated. Thanks to Chris Essig, Mathias Essig, Len McIntosh, Troy Nickerson and Alan Crozier for their efforts in attaching floats, inspecting the dock boards, removing some for replacement and ensuring screws and nails are well fastened.

With the assistance of Larry Richardson, I have been working on a comprehensive Procedural manual for the position of Dock Chair. It outlines the various ongoing responsibilities and tasks associated with this position and identifies key roles for volunteers needed for the ongoing maintenance and upkeep of the docks and as well as annual docks in and docks out days.

This year, an online signup sheet has been designed and will be available to members to make known their availability for the April 27th docks in day. An email will go out to all members with a link for you to sign on for the day. It will outline the various ways one can volunteer. We are asking that you check off which of these jobs you would be willing to do on the day. I will take the information collected and assign you to a specific role so that you will be aware in advance what you will be doing, in what location, and what time your assistance will be required.

The positions available for sign up are:

SIGNAL PERSON:

- Is the Lead Hand in the dock launch area
- Will work with the crane operator and must have knowledge of hand signals to work in conjunction with the crane operator
- Oversees safety in the area. Hard hat required.

CRANE-TO-DOCK SETTERS:

- Works attaching the lifting jaws to the docks ready for the crane to lift. Hard hat required.

LEAD DOCKS FROM CRANE-TO-DOCK:

- Lead the lifted dock to the launch area. Hard hat required.

PREPARE DOCKS FOR TOWING:

- Set line on the docks and hand off to tow boat. Hard hat and PFD required.

TOW BOAT DRIVER:

- Operates the boat towing the docks to the designated area. PFD required.

TOW BOAT ASSIST:

- Receive lines from the prep crew and hand the line to the member in the receiving area. PFD required.

DOCK ASSEMBLY LEAD HAND:

- Is in charge of A or C dock area and oversees safety.

RECEIVING DOCK FROM TOW BOAT:

- Receive the line from the tow boat and guide dock to the dock assemblers. PFD required.

JOINING DOCKS:

- Align docks and insert rod and secure with pin. PDF required; knee pads recommended.

SECURE DOCKS:

- Hold dock in place while it is being assembled.
- Secure dock to wall or post. PDF required when by the water.

COFFEE RUNNER:

- Water the troops :)

If you're not able to volunteer, but would like to contribute in some way, perhaps you would like to make a monetary donation of $5, $10 or more to help pay for coffee and treats for the volunteer crew that day.

eTransfer your donation to deposits@dalhousieyachtclub.com and be sure to reference "Docks-In Crew Donation" in the message.

Looking forward to the new boating season and reconnecting with all my boating friends!

Treasurer's Report ...

(By Lew Holloway)

Hello from sunny Florida. The warm days are giving Tracy and myself a wonderful reminder that the boating season is just around the corner.

We have now entered a new and exciting era at DYC. Board members have really stepped up to the plate in each of their areas of responsibility to ensure that DYC is run on an efficient and cost effective basis. Substantial progress has been made on the time consuming process of correcting and updating member accounts. Account payables and receivables are also being brought up-to-date.

Dock invoices and statements on accounts with outstanding balances will be sent out in April. Leigh Brown is working with me to allow for the technological transfer of member boat information to the Quick Books system. This will significantly reduce manual labour and reduce the probability of errors.

Please review your invoice and/or statement when received to verify that all information is correct. If you have any questions or concerns, do not hesitate to contact me at: Treasurer@dalhousieyachtclub.com.

If you have an outstanding balance, please make payment as soon as possible.

Thank you for your continued support and understanding as we transform DYC into a Yacht Club that members point to with pride and appreciation. Happy boating!

Lew

A Spring Song

(Submitted by Len McIntosh)

My wife is suing for divorce
My car's been repossessed
My bank won't honour any cheques
But I don't get depressed
My sister's working Queenston Street
My oldest son's gone gay
These little things don't bother me
My boat gets launched today!

I got a letter in the mail
From my Dad (he's in the pen)
It said, "The family's closer now
Your brother's in again."
My girlfriend's lawyer called to say
She's in the family way
These little things don't bother me
My boat gets launched today!

On cold and dreary winter days
Despair and gloom assailed me
Amid the chains of snow and ice
It seemed that hope had failed me
Now flowers may bloom and birds may sing
The sun may guild the day
But I surely know it's spring because
My boat gets launched today!

Digital Director's Report ...

(by Leigh Brown)

Micro Steps Lead to Mega Improvements

On the digital front, our committee members have been working hard on investigating and developing proposals for service improvements across many facets of our club, including but not limited to our club WIFI, phones, website, membership management systems, communications, and on and on. I would like to thank the committee members for volunteering their time and for their continued support: Jill Miike, Joyce Hildebrandt, Valerie Jack, Jim White, Greg Ballinger, Brenda Hazlewood and Tracey Cookson.

WIFI - Greg and I took a deeper look at our current networking equipment and moved it into a closet of the office in support of the office refresh work being lead by Richard. As a result, we've started improvements with our club WIFI. You will now see a DYC Guest available to connect with. The password is available upon request in the lounge.

Phones - We have completed the consolidation of phone lines for the club. Our club number (905) 934-8325 has been moved to our main phone service provider. You won't notice any changes when calling the club. You will still hear Leah Brown's voice routing your call, but when the club calls out it will also be the (905) 934-8325 that you see on your display in place of the Brampton number we had previously. If you do call in and listen to the prompts, you will notice a new option for our Youth Sailing School at extension 25 this provides those interested in our programme to be connected directly with the Youth Sailing School committee and for parents to communicate with our instructors throughout the summer.

Website - We continue to work on and improve functionality of registering online for events, docks, youth sailing school, etc. We are looking to simplifying how members and visitors interact with the club online, supporting some administrative automation to help manage club and membership records.

Membership Management Systems - We have a number of systems using your email addresses and membership numbers to identify you for invoicing, monthly minimums, communications and website access. We have been working with Lew Holloway, our club treasurer, to get our membership master list, the roster, updated so that our records are as accurate as possible.

Membership Cards -

Valerie has been an active member of our Digital Committee even before there was a committee. She and I had begun building our digital roster two seasons ago and it is this list of memberships that she used to create this year's membership cards. Using an online card designer, Valerie has been working very hard to make sure that not only do fellow cruisers have their reciprocal cards but that each of our members (Social, Full and Life) get a laminated card for the season.

Communications - Joyce and Jill have been working on our communication processes so that they can be streamlined and shared with our membership throughout the month. Keep an eye on your inboxes for updates on events, races, volunteering opportunities and more.

Administration Processes - Jim and Tracey have been working with me on the everyday administration of membership status and updates. For example, when a member updates their roster record with a new email address, we need to be sure that we update our other systems so that we don't miss anyone on our email distribution and communications.

Remember your OAR - Observe and Report—Our club is just that, ours. We share all the benefits of being a part of this a waterfront community. That said, we also share the responsibility of keeping it alive and well. Our digital presence is a big part of managing the health of our club's records. Here is how YOU can help keep our club information alive and well. If you are an active DYC Member, log into the members area of our website at www.dalhousieyachtclub.com/member-area. Review and update your profile so that the roster reflects only active and current information. If you notice that other member updates are needed or you see something you might like added, changed or removed, please send your comments to manager@dalhousieyachtclub.com

I'm looking forward to warmer days, and preparing Grace Blue for a second season of Social Sunset Sails. Talk soon.

Leigh

HIGH, dry and deserted now are the craft of members of the Dalhousie Yacht Club but soon it will be a different tale. There is something almost grotesque about a boat out of water. These shown above are on the harbor wall at Port Dalhousie. In a few months there will be activity in preparation for a busy season. At the top left is the famous Venture, little craft in which Jules Dugas and George Bell sailed from Port Dalhousie to Florida and back two years ago. Top right is the canvas shrouded sailing boat of another of the yacht club members and beneath is a general view of some of the boats. —Standard Engraving

"Postcards from Port Dalhousie"
by Roger Bradshaw and John Burtniak

Utilizing John's extensive collection, they have collaborated to select numerous vintage Port Dalhousie postcards to display and describe in a book. For selected post cards, they have photographed the current scene to achieve a past and present view.

Roger Bradshaw is the author of self-published books on the Historic Welland Canals and Niagara's War of 1812. He also has been the tour photographer on Canadian battlefield tours in Europe.

John Burtniak is a retired Librarian/Archivist from Brock University and is active on various provincial and local historical associations. He is a noted historian, author, researcher, editor and collector.

In Memoriam

David was born and raised in Bath, England with an older brother, John. Rugby was his sport but he liked swimming and chess. His dad, a navy man himself, encouraged David to become an apprentice artificer in the British Royal Navy. He trained as a metal smith and engineer and travelled the world on boats and submarines. He ended his naval career as a Chief Petty Officer on the Valiant, the first British nuclear submarine. In Caledonia, Scotland David met his wife Terry, a pay write also in the navy. They had Tracey and Paul-Ross and lived in and around Portsmouth where he was stationed. In 1968 the family moved to Mississauga, Canada. He had various positions in Canada built on his naval experience, draftsman, inspector for boiler and machinery for Royal Insurance and also the government.

David was a steady, thorough and safety conscious worker; any job worth doing was worth doing well, although sometimes slowly! But whatever he was doing, you would generally hear him whistling away, happy as a clam. He completely renovated 4 homes himself, building decks and creating pleasing gardens to enjoy observing and feeding the wild animals that came to visit and the pets he had. And he loved planning all these projects on his graph paper pad that was never far away. When he wanted to explain something, out came the graph paper and he would proceed to sketch things out. He was a talented man, he could build or fix almost anything, which his family appreciated and benefited from often. It came in handy in 1994 when his son lured him to Bermuda to help him with his business. The family had grown to 5 grandkids by then with Rebecca, Spencer, Aram, Simon, and Troy. Many happy summer vacations were spent in Bermuda playing at Horseshoe Bay Beach. When they returned from Bermuda in 2002 he retired and they moved to Erin but in 2007 they settled happily in Fonthill.
